Guards Assigned to Patrols Here: Unit Plans Public Exhibition

Assignment of active service State Guardsmen attached to Company H (Torrance-Lomita's own) to patrol of vital sectors in this district is proceeding as fast as the details are approved by Guard authorities, according to Lieut. Robert L. Lewellen, Sr., this week. He said there was every indication that all strategic installations would be covered by the Guard here within a short time.

Meanwhile, Company H is continuing to receive new recruits, ten having joined the past week, Lieut. Lewellen said. He is in charge of the portion of the company stationed at the Torrance city park while half of the outfit is attending the Infantry Training Camp at Herndon Beach under command of Lieut. Chalmers Dulmage. The company is rapidly becoming fully equipped but still needs more recruits to complete its roster.

It was announced Tuesday that the Guard will stage public maneuvers at the city park July 19 when Rosemary DeCamp Shidler, noted radio and screen player and wife of Judge John A. Shidler of Torrance, will be commissioned honorary captain of Company H. Preceding the review in her honor, the company will stage close and extended order drills, skirmish exhibitions and demonstrate some of the war training that has been in progress for the past several months. The exhibition will be free to the public and will be held at the ball park.

Leut. Lewellen issued a call for hags to make sandbag emplacements at local guard installations. Those having extra gunny or other sacks on hand are asked to bring them to the city park headquarters of the Guard at once so that vital emplacements can be made immediately for the protection of strategic points in this community. While the State Guard needs men for active service, it also is recruiting men for inactive or reserve duty. These will receive full combat equipment with the exception of uniforms and will be given the same training as active members, but will not be required to leave the community in any emergency.

Get Number First Rather Than Call Information's Help Have you been referred to your telephone directory by the information operator? If so, you have been given another indication of the far-flung effect of the war, which now has affected telephone information service.

According to F. W. Smith, Southern California Telephone Co. district manager, under normal conditions the company would now be installing additional sections of information switchboard for the increasing number of calls for information on telephone numbers.

Smith said, however, that the company is unable to provide the needed facilities because the supply of switchboard sections is limited and must be made available for war purposes and because companies that manufacture telephone supplies are busy on war orders.

In order that the company may continue to provide good service for persons seeking numbers assigned since the issuance of the current directory, cooperation of telephone users in consulting the latest directory before calling information has been requested, the manager said. He reported that approximately two out of five calls to information are for numbers listed in the directory.

Harold E. Maasie returned Monday evening from Vallejo for a week's visit with his parents here.

RELATIVE DIES Councilman N. H. Cuccel this week received news of the death of his brother-in-law, Louis Circo, who died Sunday at Pueblo, Colorado.
